TWO SURVEYS CONDUCTED BY SUPER LAWYER BRING 2019 HONORS TO SEVEN ATTORNEYS AT LEVENE NEALE BENDER YOO AND BRILL

(LOS ANGELES) — Two new polls conducted by Super Lawyers have resulted in distinguished honors for a total of seven attorneys at Levene, Neale, Bender, Yoo and Brill, L.L.P., the Los Angeles-based bankruptcy and reorganization specialists.

Four were ranked in the 2019 survey for Top Women Attorneys in Southern California. Named as the latest regional "Rising Stars" were three other of the firm's younger lawyers.

The quartet of women who received recognition as 2019 "Top Women Attorneys" are Eve H. Karasik, Juliet Y. Oh, Carmela T. Pagay and Beth Ann R. Young.

Cited as the 2019 Southern California "Rising Stars" are John-Patrick M. Fritz, Krikor J. Meshefejian and Lindsey L. Smith.

Each of the seven practice in various areas of bankruptcy law, business reorganization, trustee issues and commercial litigation. They were selected by a comprehensive process including peer nominations and evaluations combined with independent research. All must meet ethical standards and professional achievements.

Levene, Neale, Bender, Yoo & Brill, founded in 1995, enjoys a national reputation as a premier boutique that successfully represents a broad array of financially challenged clients through the complex bankruptcy process.
